

Will you be one of the thousands of Americans joining together to recognize National Gun Violence Awareness Day this June? Orange has long been the color of gun violence prevention and on June 1st, residents, survivors, business owners, students, elected leaders, teachers, community leaders, parents and kids in Snoqualmie Valley will join together to #WearOrange and show indisputably that there is a movement of Americans committed to stop gun violence.

WHAT

Wear Orange and Moms Demand Action for Gun Sense in America partnered up in 2015 to honor and remember gun violence victims and survivors, as well as raise awareness to the growing movement in America on how we can work together to end gun violence.

The color orange has a long and proud history in the gun violence prevention movement. Wear Orange Day honors the more than 96 lives cut short and the hundreds more wounded by gun violence everyday -- and demands action.

Orange expresses our collective hope as a nation — a hope for a future free from gun violence.
